EXCELLENT BUT UNNECESSARY ADVICE.

Congressman Haskins' letter which was read before the Republican district convention yesterday afternoon was a well-directed effort. The whole tenor of it was in the line of counsel that the Republican party of Vermont get together and give a rousing vote for Theodore Roosevelt for president of the United States, but the sentiment of Vermont Republicans on the presidency is so unanimous that there is not the least fear that the state will not give the present administration a solid support. It is almost as certain as the fact that the sun will rise tomorrow that one of the largest votes ever polled for a Republican presidential candidate will be registered for Roosevelt next fall. Had Congressman Haskins counseled a getting-together on the governorship question, the advice would have fallen on a divided people, but when the matter of the presidency is considered there is but one man, and that is Roosevelt. The state convention which meets at Burlington today is expected to register that expression of feeling in a manner that cannot admit of a doubt.

SECOND DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVES.

The Republicans of the second congressional district will be represented at the Republican national convention in June by two young men who are but slightly known to the most of the people of the district, but the delegates are men of undoubted ability and are in every way deserving of the honor which has fallen to their lot. Neither one is a political rounder; who has passed through the political gamut from A to Z, and who is only anxious to complete the record of his political triumphs by exacting further tribute from the state on an account long and far overdrawn. Each one will represent the district in a fitting manner, although their parts will necessarily be small.

THEY DISCUSSED COMMONPLACES.

Candidate Stanton and Candidate Bell were noticeably present at Montpelier yesterday, in fact, they were there with both hands, including the "glad hand." They expended their time and energy for several hours in driving nails in each other's political coffins, and then gradually withdrew to the same corner of the hotel and were "so glad to see you." It is stated for a certainty that neither one said "boo" about the governorship, but indulged in commonplaces about the weather and the prospects of the crops for the season. They can scarcely be blamed for not tackling the question which was uppermost in the minds of each.

"The democracy of New York favor the nomination of president of the United States of that distinguished Democrat and eminent jurist of our state, Alton Brooks Parker," said a big majority of the Democrats of New York in convention assembled Monday. And Willie Randolph didn't crack a smile.

That last Republican caucus in Rutland still continues to be a bone of contention in that city. The Rutland Herald declares that the "names of a bunch of Italians who voted cannot be found on the check list,—but everything went Saturday night." Even the caucus went—against Clement.

Hon. Frank Plumley leaves Monday for San Francisco, Cal., where he is one of the lay delegates at the general conference, which commences in Los Angeles, on May 4th.

Will he take along a box of fragrant Havana?

That Bradford post office robbery was a particularly neat job, as robberies go, and the thieves got a good swagger. If a gang has started work in this section again it will pay village watchmen to be particularly wary.

The soft white mantle made a beautiful sight this morning, but its beauties would have been more appreciated had it fallen several months earlier. Eight inches of snow the last of April is a cold, hard fact.

The applause which was accorded Roosevelt in the Montpelier convention yesterday demonstrated that he is considered a "safe" man here.

Heavy squalls, followed by several days of gloominess, is reported from Burlington, from the political weather bureau.

Thank you, Mr. Mayor and aldermen, for the appointment of a third patrolman.

It may yet be, "Japan, Mistress of the Sea."

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The mid summer meeting of the northern bankers' association of New England will be held at St. Johnsbury June 23.

Edward P. Livingston of St. Albans yesterday procured from his henary two unusually large hens eggs, the two eggs weighing half a pound.

The annual drive of the Connecticut Valley lumber company will be started from the headwaters of the Connecticut this month. The drive is estimated at 45,000,000 feet which is somewhat larger than in recent years.

Addison county is certainly in a bad way as regards the supply of farm help, and the situation grows worse as spring approaches. One of Cornwall's representative farmers says that twenty-five men could find employment as farm hands in that town. He said that unless men can be secured there will be a decreased grain acreage in that section.

George L. Moore has been appointed to the office of chief engineer of the Rutland railroad. He assumed the duties of his office Monday. Mr. Moore went to Rutland from Bloomington, Ill., where he was superintendent of the maintenance of way of the Chicago & Alton railroad. He will succeed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. J. Parker last July.

Joseph M. Ayres has just received an interesting relic of Joseph Jefferson, the actor. It is a double barrel shot gun, made in London, and an excellent specimen of workmanship. It was procured by Henry Squires, the well known tenor, of Mr. Jefferson over twenty-five years ago while the two were on a hunting trip in Australia. Mr. Squires gave it to Mr. Ayres.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Holton of Pittsford, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage Wednesday, April 13. Substantial gifts and remembrances were received, among which was a friendly letter from a life-long friend in the West with two purses, each containing $50 in gold. During the evening a diary was exhibited which was written by Mr. Holton's grandfather, and which contained a complete account of the very cold spring and summer.

A special meeting of the town of St. Johnsbury Saturday dismissed the proposition to abate the taxes on the Howe opera house. The owner, M. J. Caldebeck, will dismantle the property, retaining only the first story to be used in stores. The opera house was built by B. G. Howe, now of Bennington, in 1891, at a cost of over $30,000, and Mr. Caldebeck claims he is losing $1000 a year by it. Mr. Caldebeck is the largest individual taxpayer in town. The opera house was one of the finest in the state, and the best companies and stars on the road have appeared in it in years past.

WORLD'S FAIR OPENING.

The Official Programme of Initiatory Ceremonies Announced.

St. Louis, April 20.—The official programme for the opening ceremonies of the world's fair on April 30 has been announced at a meeting of the committee on ceremonies. It is as follows:

At 9 a. m. the board of directors of the world's fair, the members of the national commission, the board of lady managers will meet in the office of President Francis at the Administration building, where President Francis will receive the special gavel.

At 9:30 a. m. the entire party will be escorted to the Louisiana Purchase monument, where they will be joined by the foreign commissioners, who will assemble earlier at the British pavilion, and the governors of states and state commissions and committees, who will first assemble at the United States Government building. Secretary William Taft, as the representative of President Roosevelt, will be escorted to the world's fair grounds by a military guard. The committees from the United States senate and the house of representatives will have escorts provided, who will meet them at their respective hotels.

At 10:30 a. m. President Francis will call the assemblage to order, and the invocation will be made by the Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago. An address by President Francis will follow. William H. Thompson, chairman of the committee on grounds and buildings, will present Isaac S. Taylor, director of works. The latter will deliver the keys of the several exhibit palaces to President Francis.

The transfer of the exhibit palaces to F. J. V. Skiff, director of exhibits, will then be made. Mr. Skiff will deliver an address, which will be followed by an address by Thomas H. Carter, president of the national commission, and addresses by a senator and a representative in behalf of the congressional committee, who will be selected by the committees which they will represent.

An address on behalf of domestic exhibitors will be made by E. H. Harriman, president of the New York state commission.

William H. Taft, secretary of war, will then speak.

At the conclusion of Secretary Taft's address, President Roosevelt will press an electric button in the east room of the White House at Washington, which will start all the machinery of the world's fair in motion.

The Pike will be formally opened at 3 p. m., immediately after a "parade of all nations," in which all the strange peoples of the Pike attractions will take part.

HARRIMAN LOSES.

Application to Intervene in Merger Settlement Denied.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—In the United States circuit court Judges Sanborn, Thayer, Van Devanter and Hook unanimously denied the application of E. H. Harriman and W. S. Pierce and the Oregon Short-Line Railroad company for leave to intervene in the case of the United States against the Northern Securities company, on the following grounds:

First.—The plan of the directors of the Northern Securities company for the distribution of the stock of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway companies is not violative of the decree in the Northern Securities case.

Second.—No one but the United States can successfully appeal to the court to enjoin the execution of that plan on the ground that it is in violation of the Sherman antitrust act, and the United States expresses satisfaction with the present decree.

Third.—The stock of the two railway companies is not in the custody of the court.

Fourth.—An intervention is not necessary to enable the petitioners to protect any pecuniary interest or equity they have.

Judge Thayer delivered the opinion of the court.

Testifies Against Judge Swayne.

Washington, April 20.—John Wurts, a professor in the law school of Yale university, gave testimony against Judge Charles Swayne before the subcommittee of the house committee on the Judiciary. Judge Swayne was present and will cross examine Professor Wurts later. As to Judge Swayne's reputation in Jacksonville, Professor Wurts said: "Judge Swayne's reputation in Jacksonville was that of a judge who was open to influence and whose decisions were governed by other considerations than the law and the evidence."

Bandit Will Live to Be Hanged.

Chicago, April 20.—County Physician McNamara said that Niedermeier, the bandit, would live to die on the gallows next Friday. Niedermeier's throat and stomach are in such a condition that he can eat no solid foods. Nourishment, however, is given him in every spoonful of medicine.

Men Dressmakers.

The name of the first famous men dressmaker in Paris is said to have been Rihomberg. He was believed to have been the son of a poor Bavarian peasant who lived in Munich.
